If the customer does not accept the goods made available at the agreed time, we shall be entitled to insist on performance and store the goods at the customer's cost and risk.

4. Characteristics of wood

Wood is a natural product; its natural characteristics, variations and features must therefore always be taken into account. In particular, the buyer must consider its biological, physical and chemical properties when purchasing and using the product.

Variations in colour, grain, structure and other natural differences within the same species of wood, as well as possible resin seepage, are characteristics of the natural product wood and shall under no circumstances constitute grounds for complaint or liability.

all, if the doors are exposed to excessive humidity, or if they are not removed during interior plastering and screeding works, or are not protected against excessive humidity during such works.

6. No right of withdrawal

There is no right of withdrawal for goods manufactured according to the customer's specifications or clearly tailored to the customer's personal needs.

7. Statutory warranty

The provisions on statutory warranty shall apply. For the supply of movable goods, the warranty period is two years from acceptance of the goods.

8. Customer service

Complaints based on statutory warranty claims or other complaints may be submitted to the following email address: shop@doorista.com.

9. Retention of title

The goods shall remain our property until payment has been made in full. In the event of late payment by the customer, we shall be entitled to exercise our rights under the retention of title clause.

10. Contact details for customer complaints

You may also submit your complaint directly to us at: shop@doorista.com.

11. Standards

We would like to point out that all our products are bespoke items manufactured according to traditional models, production methods and plans. In some areas, it is therefore unfortunately not possible for us to manufacture the products in full compliance with applicable standards (DIN, Austrian standards, etc.).

Our products therefore do not in some respects fall within the applicable standards, but they nevertheless meet the current quality and technical standards.

12. Jurisdiction

The place of performance and the place of jurisdiction for deliveries and payments, including actions relating to cheques and bills of exchange, as well as all disputes arising between the parties, shall be Vienna.
